Safety Considerations:

Stopping distance – a carrier and cargo add weight to the vehicle and lengthens the time and distance that it takes to stop. Be sure to review the guidelines provided by your automobile manufacturer's manual and adjust your riding accordingly, allowing extra time and distance for slowing and stopping.

Passing – due to the extra weight of the carrier and cargo, be sure to allow extra time and space for passing. The combination of carrier and cargo extend the length of your vehicle and should be considered when merging and passing.

Tire Maintenance – be sure tires are inflated to the proper p.s.i. Consult your automobile manufacturer's operations manual for recommendations.

Check your hardware – make sure all hardware is tightened and secure prior to beginning any trip.

Alterations – changing, adding to, or removing parts of a carrier may adversely affect the handling of the product and is strongly not advised.

Your signature for and acceptance of this package represents your complete understanding of the E-Z Carrier liability disclaimer and safety considerations. Furthermore, you alone (not E-Z Carrier) are responsible for securing all items being carried. Consult the department of safety guidelines and expert opinions prior to use.
